

Alachua County Master Gardener Volunteer Plant Sale May 14, 2022

from 8am to noon

at the new

UF/IFAS Extension

Alachua County Office

22712 W. Newberry Rd.

Newberry, FL 32669

Master Gardener Volunteers will be on site for advice.

Shop from thousands of plants with prices that make you want to buy more!

This event is a fundraiser for the Alachua County Master Gardener Volunteer Program. Proceeds support community & school garden projects.

UF IFAS Extension
UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA

Booths

FREE PLANT DIAGNOSTICS: "A diagnostic booth will be available at the plant sale for attendees to bring sick plants. They will have a chance to and ask a Plant Doctor for management recommendations. If you have diseased plants or are suffering from insect pest problems, feel free to bring a sample for inspection. Conducted by Kevin Korus, Doctor of Plant Health, Agriculture & Natural Resources. Disclaimer: Some diseases may not be possible to diagnose on site."

IFAS BOOKSTORE: Offering a selection of gardening, lawn and landscape publications.

EXTENSION INFORMATION: Dr. Cindy Sanders, County Extension Director & Livestock Agent will have an Extension information booth.

ALACHUA COUNTY RESIDENTIAL RECYCLING: Alachua County currently recycles 68% of its waste. Keep recycling Alachua County! Limited number of wire compost bins will be available.

Workshop

REDUCING SODIUM WITH HERBS @ 10AM in the Ag Auditorium: Topics will include: tips and suggestions for using herbs to reduce sodium in the diet. Conducted by Martha Maddox, Family & Consumer Sciences Agent IV.